

Discover. Get Content. Manage Rights.

Copyright Clearance Center (CCC) provides smart solutions that simplify the licensing of content. Now, through the acquisition of Pubget, CCC is pleased to offer a seamless and fully-integrated content search, retrieval and purchasing solution. The solution is comprised of three core elements:

1. Discover

Search for papers through multiple discovery environments, including PaperStream, PubMed or the Pubget integration in Microsoft SharePoint®.

2. Get content

Get full text articles using PaperStream, from your preferred sources, including locally-stored content, content subscriptions, open access sites (such as PubMed Central) and pay-per-view document delivery when content is unavailable from other sources.

3. Manage rights

Quickly verify whether you have the rights to store or share content in PaperStream through a full integration with RightSphere, CCC's rights advisory tool. In the event that rights have not been obtained for a particular title, you can purchase those rights directly through RightSphere.

Increase Visibility. Control Costs.

Providing quicker and easier access to content is vital to your organization. Maintaining visibility into content usage helps you make educated collection development decisions and better understand the needs of content users. PaperStats™ puts up-to-date usage and cost data at your fingertips. Here's how the solution works:

1. Setup

Setup is quick and easy. Pubget PaperStats gathers holdings data directly from publisher vendors. The holdings data can be used to power PaperStream, your catalog, link resolver and RightSphere.

2. Analysis and maintenance

Up-to-date usage and cost data from PaperStats, plus new cost analysis tools, enable you to make more informed collection development decisions.

3. Automation

The Pubget/CCC solution automates copyright compliance, local library development and the collection of content usage and cost data through a single vendor — saving you time and money.
