

Annual Copyright License Coverage

The Annual Copyright License (ACL) is a single source of millions of global rights that empowers companies to accelerate business results, simplify copyright compliance use, and efficiently share published content in many different ways. Please refer to the chart below to see what the license does and does not allow.

CONTENT USES	ALLOWED	NOT ALLOWED
Download, save to corporate-owned hard drive or network drive and/or copy-and paste Web-based or other digital content.	●
Print out Web-based or other digital content onto paper	●
Share digital content with co-workers via e-mail, intranet posting, CD-ROM, PDF, printed copy, fax, etc.	●
Share a single electronic copy of an article with a client, customer, or prospect upon request.*	●
Photocopy from a newspaper, magazine, book, journal, research report or other published document.	●
Share photocopied content with co-workers via paper copies or fax.	●
Preserve digital content as part of the storage of a team's work product.	●
Share digital content via collaboration applications such as Microsoft SharePoint.	●
Submit properly marked print and electronic copies of articles to government agencies for regulatory filings.	●
Scan printed works into digital form when an electronic version of the work is not readily available.	●
Use published content (including e-books and blogs) in a slide presentation or CD-ROM delivered to an internal audience.	●
Create a library or collection intended to substantially replace user's need to take a subscription or purchase a particular work.		●
Download or share content in bulk or systematically.		●
Alter or manipulate content in any way.		●
Reproduce copyrighted publications in their entirety (although it does permit reproduction of entire articles and chapters within periodicals and books).		●
Distribute content in digital form to anyone other than an employee or on-premises consultant except in response to government filing requirements, and then only when bearing appropriate notices, or in response to a specific client, customer or prospect upon request.		●
Display copies externally on mobile devices as part of the user's systematic sales or marketing activities.		●
Sell copies or fee-for-service reproductions.		●

*Some licensing options allow licensees to share a single electronic copy of an article with a client, customer, or prospect upon request. However, no licensing options cover the external display of content on mobile devices as part of the user's systematic sales or marketing activities.
