

Using © Content?

Getting copyright permission has never been easier.

This institution has purchased an Annual Copyright License from CCC that allows all faculty, staff and researchers to photocopy or electronically distribute text-based copyrighted content from thousands of journals, newspapers, magazines, books and other publications.

The license allows the distribution of print and online content through:

- Electronic reserve postings
- Learning management system and intranet postings
- Print and electronic coursepacks
- Faculty-to-faculty sharing
- Classroom handouts
- Administrative communications
- Research collaboration

If you have any questions about our Annual Copyright License from CCC, please contact:

[Insert your contact information, website address or other resource information here.]