Tip

In some cases, if the title for which you're searching is not covered under the license, you might still be able to purchase permissions through Marketplace (marketplace.copyright.com). To do this, click the "view more uses" link on the right side of the search results page. If you see a "Price and Order" button on the right side of this page, simply click this button to view your permissions options on Marketplace.

Note: this option will not always be available.
