Instructions for Survey Participants

The data gathered through the Information Usage Survey helps ensure that authors, publishers, and other rightsholders are compensated fairly for the use of their content. During the data collection period you will be asked to record how content is being used or shared within your organization. After you register in RightFind Advisor you will log the published content you use, and the method used to share it for 10 business days.

How to check coverage & to log survey activity

Type the title of the publication you want to find in the search bar and click on the magnifier icon.

In survey mode, "How can I use this copyrighted content?" will appear to the right of the search results. Click the "How can I use this copyrighted content?" link and the survey will appear on your screen (please refer to the example at right).

Fill out the survey as accurately as possible and click Submit. After you click submit, you will see detailed information about the reuse rights granted by the license for that title.

While we cover all of the major publishers and millions of articles and other content types there may be an occasion when your search returns a result for a publication that is not covered because the publisher does not participate. These are the instructions for reporting a title that is not found:

If you don't find the publication you are looking for, you'll see the message above the search results: "Didn't find what you were looking for? Log your usage anyway." Click on that link. Answer the survey questions to report a failed attempt to search. This helps CCC and RightsDirect extend the breadth of our coverage or fix isolated errors in the software.
