The Multinational Copyright License

What is the Multinational License?

The Multinational Copyright License (MCL) is a complement to Copyright Clearance Center’s (CCC) Annual Copyright License. It extends Annual Copyright License coverage to your company’s non-U.S. employees in more than 180 countries to enabling them to compliantly collaborate with coworkers using content from millions of journals, blogs, newspapers, e-books, and other copyrighted works represented in the CCC repertory.

What are the advantages of having the Multinational License?

This license streamlines the permissions and compliance process for your employees worldwide. With the MCL there is no need to research the copyright laws of individual countries, gather permissions, and pay royalties to numerous parties. In addition, because publishers registered with CCC automatically waive any and all unasserted prior claims for copyright infringement of works for uses falling within the scope of the rights authorized under the license, you gain important protection from potential litigation.

How can I verify that a publication is covered under my Multinational License?

CCC’s RightFind® solutions offer the quickest, most reliable way for employees to confirm rights to reuse specific content, all without leaving their workflow. A CCC licensing representative can advise you on which RightFind solution is best for you.

Here’s how to confirm rights with RightFind:

1. Log on to your RightFind solution, such as RightFind Advisor, CCC’s complimentary rights lookup tool.

2. Search for a publication:
   - (i) Enter the Publication Title or Standard Number (ISBN/ISSN) of the publication that you wish to use.
   - (ii) Click the “Search” button.

3. Verify coverage:
   - In the search results, the most frequently requested publications are displayed first. Next to every record in RightFind there is a link: “How can I use this copyrighted content?”
I’m looking for a publication but I can’t find it. What should I do?

If you’re having difficulty finding a publication through our search box within RightFind:

- Be sure you’re searching by publication title, not article title. For example, search for “The Washington Post” if you need to reuse an article within The Washington Post.
- Check the spelling of your search term(s).
- View our search tips for ways to optimize your search.

What if my publication is not covered by the license?

While the Multinational Copyright License covers millions of books, journals, magazines, newspapers, and other works from thousands of publishers, you may find a piece of content that is not covered by the license. RightFind offers options to quickly and easily purchase the permissions you need for those publications on an individual basis. If you cannot find the content you are looking for within RightFind, please check CCC’s Pay-Per-Use Services on copyright.com.

If you are not able to find a specific title or publisher, click the “Digital Sharing” or “Photocopy Sharing” link, then click the orange “Request Coverage” button and CCC will request that the copyright holder add the publication to our rights database in the future.
Frequently Asked Questions

How can I tell if my company has a Multinational License?

If you’re not sure that your organization has an MCL, check with your corporate library staff or corporate attorney.

How are the license fees calculated for the Multinational License?

The fee for the Multinational License is based on the total number of full-time-equivalent (FTE) employees in each country in which you operate.